Dear Brothers, Sisters and Friends,

The topic of last Friday's bible study was the Tower of Babel. From the reading of Genesis we learned how God's people, after the flood, tried to build a tower in their own name, and how God confused their tongues to cause them stop the building of the tower and spread out to live all over the world. While we recognized their motivation of building the tower was self-center and pride, we were also reminded by brother Frank that God's action of confusing their tongues was not only out of just, but also to prevent people from committing more serious sins. Some might think self-center or self-indulge was not a serious sin, but in the long run self-center will develop into arrogance, which is a serious sin. Let's once again be reminded that God and God only is the one whose name should be exalted, not ours.

You are cordially invited to the following activities at CCCFW this weekend.
